Keeping Smiles Brighter Creative Contest

By James Sconzo

On April 6th, members of the Oral Health Committee arduously appraised art work submitted by applicants from Brooklyn and Staten Island. This most difficult task took ten members almost two hours to complete.

"Why so long?" you ask. Well, let me tell you that art and talent are alive and well in both Brooklyn and Staten Island. It is no easy task to evaluate over 600 pieces of art in which not one entry was without merit.

Our mission was to pick the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners for 7 categories from Pre-K to 12th Grade. The guidelines for the students were as follows:

1. Create a T-shirt design with a dental health message
2. All entries must be on paper or poster board no larger than 10" x 17"
3. Paint, markers, colored pencils, ink mixed media/collage, pastels or computer generated art were acceptable.

First place in each category receives a $100 savings bond, second place receives a $75 savings bond and third place receives a $50 savings bond. In addition to that all first place winners will be submitted to the New York State Dental Association for a chance to win a $100 gift card. A big congratulations and thank you goes out to all the contestants, schools and teachers participating in this year's contest.

Align Technologies (Invisalign®) Eliminates Quota Requirement Pressure from Dental Societies Cited

Align Technology recently announced it has changed its policy and will no longer require providers to start a minimum of 10 Invisalign® cases annually to maintain provider status with the company.

When Align announced the new requirements for case quotas last year, NYSDA members and dentists nationwide expressed concerns about corporate intrusion into the relationship between practitioners and their patients.

In a letter sent to providers from Dan Ellis, Vice President of North American Sales, Align stated that it reached this decision because "it did not anticipate the scope and intensity of frustration with the annual case requirement. Ellis went on to state that the opposition of numerous national and state professional organizations was a major factor in Align's decision as well.

The New York State Dental Association was the first professional association to step in for its members when the Align quota program was first initiated.

NYSDA contacted Align and attempted to negotiate Align to back down. Align did not. NYSDA has introduced legislation in New York State, sponsored by Richard N. Gottfried, Chair of the Assembly Health Committee, and Carl Kruger, Chair of the Senate Finance Committee, to stop any corporation from using quotas to market a product. The legislation is still going forward regardless of Align's recent actions. The intent is to pass this...
A Message from SDDS President Deborah Pasquale:

Winter Is Gone

Another month flies by and I am five months into my 12 month presidency. It seems like yesterday I was planning my installation. I am happy to say winter is gone and spring is here. But winter took its toll on Second District:

- The Resident event that was to be held on Thursday, February 25 had to be cancelled due to snow.
- Lectures scheduled for Friday, February 26 were also cancelled, again, due to snow.
- This winter brought leaks to the flat roof at our 60 year-old head-quarters building. But from bad always comes good. Presently we are preparing to fix the roof problem. And we are also looking into installing a new air conditioning system into the main room on the first floor. It has not had functioning air conditioning for 20 years! And our staff at Second District are hard at work scheduling a social event for the hospital resident members of SDDS in lieu of the cancelled February lecture. It is tentatively planned for the last Thursday evening in May, the 27th. More details to come on that.

Greater New York Dental Meeting News

This March I attended the organizational committee meeting of the 86th Greater New York Dental Meeting. I am proud to say the talented team is working hard to make sure that the event, to be held Friday, November 26 through Wednesday, December 1, continues its reputation for excellence. As President of Second District, I’m privy to all the e-mails that pass between the members of this group, and it’s amazing how easy they make it all look. Hours and hours are spent grinding away at details attendees take completely for granted. Kudos, team!

Scientific Meeting

On April 15 I attended the SDDS second scientific session of 2010, held at the Hilton Garden Inn on Staten Island. For those of you who have not attended CE courses at this venue, let me tell you, it was fabulous. The scientific session was sponsored by Colgate and Bank of America, and representatives were present to speak to our members. A beautiful buffet dinner was served as well. So, for those of you who haven’t done so already, cross the bridge and experience the hospitality and camaraderie of your family across the bay.

NYSDA’s House of Delegates Meeting

With its inaugural meeting this June, the New York State Dental Society’s Board of Governors will be replaced by a House of Delegates. The reorganization is to make the structure of the state organization more closely resemble that of the ADA. Second District’s delegates and alternates are familiarizing themselves with the details now so that we can join the volunteers from the state’s other 12 components. Our official title is the SDDS Caucus, of which I am the chair. I’m counting on Dr. Craig Ratner, our NYSDA trustee, and Dr. Steven Gounardes, our ADA trustee-elect, to help guide me so that our caucus will not only be prepared, but shine.

Dental Ponzi Scheme

In March I became aware of a Ponzi scheme affecting dentists and physicians across the United States. It involves a patient education system called Exhibeo, marketed by Brican America. This system plays educational loops on a (provided) 42-inch plasma set. The system is leased with the agreement that most of the fees will be reimbursed if the doctor allows 10-second advertisements for a product, the Viso Lasik Med-Spa, to be shown. In that case, only a nominal monthly fee should remain. The problems began when Brican reneged on the deal, leaving the doctors to pay the full price of the lease. A member of Second District contacted our headquarters about this, and I personally know of several others caught up in this scheme. Anyone wanting more information should take a look at the articles posted on bricancuspid.com or nysdental.org. There is also a Google group called Bricanviso which, at the time of publication, has 972 members.

On the Home Front

All other matters at Second District are running smoothly. I have several meetings to attend in May and will give you an update in next month’s.
Donations Sought for the Thomas Sullivan Chemical Dependency Grant Program

The NYSDA Chemical Dependency Committee is seeking donations to the Dr. Thomas Sullivan Chemical Dependency Grant Program. The New York State Dental Foundation administers the program. It provides support to dentists in need of in-patient treatment for alcohol and other substance abuse when those dentists do not have insurance or other financial resources available to enable them to enter treatment. Contributions are tax deductible.

Currently, the fund is receiving donations in memory of Dr. Gustave Lasoff, who died in early March. He was a member of NYSDA for 61 years and a member of the Queens County Dental Society. He was an orthodontist who taught at NYU until shortly before his death. Dr. Lasoff was one of the founding members on NYSDA's original chemical dependency committee and a member of the Council for over 20 years.

With the new NYSDA governance structure, the Council on Chemical Dependency has been transformed into a standing committee of the Board of Trustees. This committee is made up of volunteers from each component and is available to assist dentists affected by alcoholism and substance abuse. The support we receive from NYSDA's leadership, membership and staff contributes to our effectiveness.

Donations of any size are welcomed and may be directed to the Dr. Thomas Sullivan Grant Program, c/o Dr. Michael D'Ambrosio, Second District Dental Society, 111 Fort Greene Place, Brooklyn, NY 11217. The Bulletin reserves the right to reject any copy.

Advertising Policy

The SDDS Bulletin and Website welcome advertising on an honorarium basis of keeping the dental informed about new and better products and services for the practice of dentistry. But advertising must be brief, dignified, tasteful, and intended to provide useful products and service information. The publication of an advertisement is not to be construed as an endorsement or approval by the Second District Dental Society, of the product or service being offered in the advertisement. Advertising specifically includes an advertisement's treatment, its placement, its appearance or its endorsement. Clinician: Leonard B. Goldstein, D.D.S., Ph.D.
Director, Clerkship Education, Office of Clinical Education,
New York College of Osteopathic Medicine

Synopsis:

There are primarily three areas where an “expert” witness from the dental profession will be involved with litigation. Dentists most often serve as expert witnesses in claims of malpractice. Dental expert witnesses are also used in accident litigation and are used to present dental forensic evidence in criminal cases. This presentation is designed to assist dentists in understanding the sequence of events leading up to becoming an expert witness, the preparation involved and the “art” of testifying.

Upon successful completion of this course, attendees will recognize the need to testify as an “expert,” understand the judicial determination of expert status, how to be an effective witness, the “adversarial” system of justice, Federal Rules of Evidence and document preparation.

Title: “Effective, Efficient and Contemporary Implant Restorations”

Clinician: John S. Cavallaro, Jr., D.D.S.
Clinical Associate Professor,
Department of Periodontology and Implant Dentistry,
New York University College of Dentistry

Synopsis:

Implant restorations have evolved from the “original” high-water resin metal “hybrid” prosthesis fabricated from a standardized protocol to modern day restorations made in a variety of ways. With choice comes creativity and flexibility as well as potential confusion and frustration. The first portion of this presentation will cover methods that are available to proceed from a treatment plan to a well executed, satisfying result. The second portion of the course will describe prosthetic protocols for providing a fixed restoration while avoiding interim removable partials or edentulism. In the third portion, myths will be debunked and practical guidelines will be presented for utilizing a combination of tooth and implant support for fixed restorations. Lastly, suggestions will be made to clarify the decision-making between conventional restorations and implant therapy.

Upon successful completion of this course, participants will learn:

- Advantages and indications for implant level impressions (tissue sculpting for esthetics, contour and finish line clarity)
- Advantages and indications for abutment level impressions (crown and bridge type, prefabricated coping type)
- Prosthetic management of implant placement issues (position, angulation, depth and running room; components and protocols)
- Serial extraction protocol for full and partial arch fixed prostheses
- Tooth-implant supported fixed prostheses (evidence-based, 15 practical guidelines)
- The tooth versus the implant: structural prostagoptimisation of compromised teeth

Title: “Unsplinted Implants Retaining Maxillary Overdentures: Follow-Up of a Protocol and Clinical Methodologies”

Clinician: John S. Cavallaro, Jr., D.D.S.
Clinical Associate Professor,
Department of Periodontology and Implant Dentistry,
New York University College of Dentistry

Synopsis:

It is believed that maxillary dental implants must be splinted when used to retain removable overdenture prostheses in order to maintain osseointegration. This presentation presents clinical cases to demonstrate that contemporary implants can function in an unsplinted manner to retain maxillary removable overdentures with a plateless design. Five consecutive patients in group 1, followed by representative patients from groups 2, 3 and 4 are presented using a specific surgical and varying prosthetic protocols. Textured surface implants from several companies were placed to retain overdenture prostheses in these patients, with a minimum of four implants per patient. These patients were followed for four to eight years post loading of the implants.

To date, none of the implants have lost osseointegration and radiographic marginal bone levels are stable. Patients are able to maintain soft tissue health around the unsplinted implants. The patients verbally indicated that they were comfortable and their maxillary overdentures functioned well. These preliminary and follow-up reports present clinical cases in which unsplinted implants maintained osseointegration when used to retain removable overdenture prostheses with limited palatal coverage. It appears that unsplinted maxillary implants can be used to retain a maxillary overdenture. Upon successful completion of this lecture, attendees will learn indications and contraindications, advantages and disadvantages, pre-surgical protocols, requirements for successful surgical intervention, prosthetic procedures and variations and four to eight years of follow-up.
