Dr. Walter Scott Elliott, D.D.S., M.D., M.S. died on June 27, 1897. He was 70 years old. As a young man, Dr. Elliott was taught the jeweler trade by his father. He however, wanted to be a professional, and started out by obtaining a D.D.S. degree from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. After a number of years in practice, he became ill and retired from dentistry. He subsequently recuperated and decided to pursue further education. He attended medical school and received an M.D. degree. After a while of practicing medicine, his love for dentistry prevailed. He developed an invention called the Elliott Suspension Burring Engine, which he patented in 1871. This dental engine had foot pedaled power and was highly prized by the profession in this era. Other inventions included Elliott's Parting Fluid to separate metal structures from impressions and the Amalgamator, a device to gather up amalgam and carry it to the mouth.

Elliott Suspension Burring Engine Circa 1871

Dr. Elliott was elected the fifth and tenth President of the Second District Dental Society (SDDS) in 1873 and 1880. However, as I looked at the wall of the SDDS headquarters, I realized he was not mentioned at all. We do not have his picture or name listed for either year. That is unfortunate, for he was a very well-known inventor and scientific writer. His best known invention was the Elliott Suspension Burring Engine, which he patented in 1871. This dental engine had foot pedaled power and was highly prized by the profession in this era. Other inventions included Elliott’s Parting Fluid to separate metal structures from impressions and the Amalgamator, a device to gather up amalgam and carry it to the mouth.

SDDS Presidents: A History

of the DSSNY.

“The correspondent shall have charge of and conduct the correspondence of the Society and of the executive board. He shall open communications with dental, medical and scientific societies, and with eminent dentists, physicians and scientists, in any part of the world, and report annually to this society.”

Dr. W.S. Elliott was known for being the Secretary of the Sag Harbor Historical Society and an avid contributor to their society.

He was also an accomplished musician, playing the organ in his church in Goshen and the Presbyterian Church in Sag Harbor.

Dr. Albert Nelson Chapman was the sixth President of the SDDS serving in 1874. He

He was born in West Hampton, Massachusetts on March 27, 1838 and died on March 23, 1888, at the age of 59. After suffering for three weeks with the grip (what is now known as influenza), he expired of cerebral apoplexy, a small blood vessel had burst in his brain.

There are several interesting anecdotes related to Dr. Chapman. Some of them appear below.

In 1897, unknown to the DSS-

NY, Dr. Chapman had taken ill, and the Treasurer noted that he was in arrears of his $9 dues, and reported that he would not pay up by the next annual meeting.

Dr. Chapman practiced in the same of-

ci ce located in the Athenaeum Building at the corner of Clinton and Atlantic Avenue for his whole career. A quarterly meeting of the SDDS was held at his office in 1879. At that time, the SDDS only met four times a year; three of the meetings were referred to as quarterly meetings and one was called the Annual Meeting. The SDDS members would meet at a member’s offices or other venues such as the Mayor’s Room in Newburgh.

Dr. Chapman was well known for employing nitrous oxide gas for tooth extractions.

Dr. Horace Wells, a dentist, but did not catch on until 1863. It wasn’t until 1868 that Dr. Thayer won the case because it was found that the jaw wasn’t broken, but had developed ososteoncrosis from the root that was never removed.

In 1878, Dr.

William Jarvie, 11th President of the SDDS, once observed Dr. Chapman extract a supernumerary tooth from the left nostril of a 16-year-old girl with a cleft palate under nitrous at the Brooklyn Dental Society Infirmary

This led to many referrals from other dentists who did not utilize nitrous. Nitrous oxide was first used as an anesthetic in 1844 by Dr. Horace Wells, a dentist, but did not catch on until 1863. It wasn’t until 1868 that 20% oxygen was combined with the nitrous oxide to prevent asphyxia.

In a trial held in the City Court of Brooklyn on December 14,1875, a dentist, Dr. Irving Thayer, DDS was sued by a patient for $5000 for allegedly breaking the jaw of the patient when extracting tooth #29. This led to the loss of part of the tooth the “patient slipped down in the chair and the crown came off.” The dentist then discussed the alternatives and risks of continuing before making a couple of atttempts to remove the root. At that point, the patient refused to have Dr. Thayer continue and Dr. Thayer then referred the patient to

Dr. Chapman’s office for nitrous anesthetic.

The patient refused this as well. At the trial, Dr. Chapman was called as an expert witness and testified on behalf of the dentist.

Back Flow Prevention Valves

The New York City DEP has recently begun enforcing a long-standing requirement (Part 5 Section 5-1.31 of the State Sanitary Code and Title 15, Chapter 20 of the Rules of the City of New York) for back flow prevention valves in medical and dental offices. According to the DEP website, “backflow devices prevent contaminated water or chemicals from flowing back into the drinking water supply if there is a sudden or unexpected change in water pressure. If a property requires a backflow prevention device, they must be installed on all water service lines to the property. Appropriate backflow prevention devices can be identified by a Professional Engineer (PE), Registered Architect (RA) or Licensed Master Plumber (LMP).” Specific requirements are available on the DEP website.

As a result of the recent enforcement and member inquiry, RCDS President Ray Flagiello arranged for a negotiated rate for members with a local engineer and plumbing firm that will enable members to comply at a reduced cost. In his words, “Though we cannot stop the DEP from taking our money for seemingly useless regulations, we can at least provide our members with a way to comply at a reduced rate.”

Groupon and the New York Dentist

Many members have been asking whether the online group discount and promotional program, Groupon, is legal and ethical for dentists in New York.

In an article in the March issue of the New York State Dental Journal, NYSDA’s Legal Counsel, Lance Plunkett, clearly outlined the pitfalls associated with the online program. He states: “What Groupon does is clearly legal: it advertises discounts on services via a coupon system. The problem arises with the dentist who is paying Groupon. Certain payment arrangements are clearly illegal for the dentist to enter into, and the preferred payment method that Groupon uses—taking a percentage of the charges for the services it is advertising—is illegal fee splitting, a violation of both Section 6509-a of the New York State Education Law and Section 29.1(b)(4) of Title 8 of the Official Compilation of Codes, Rules and Regulations of the State of New York (8 NYCRR). Enforcement of the law by government authorities is not directed against Groupon, but against the dentist by the Office of Professional Discipline (OPD) of the New York State Education Department.

However, there are flat rate payment systems and payment systems based on measures other than patients referred or percentages of professional fees that are acceptable. A dentist would need to negotiate a legally acceptable payment arrangement with Groupon in order for advertising with Groupon to proceed without a problem.”

Title: “Periodontal Surgical Procedures to Enhance Restorative Treatment” Clinician: Constantine G. Pavlakos, D.D.S.
Clinical Attending, Periodontics, Long Island College Hospital and Lutheran Medical Center
Synopsis: Cosmetic procedures have come to the forefront in our profession. Patients are constantly being made aware by the media and their surroundings of an esthetic smile. Achieving success in this area of dentistry requires the communication of both the restorative dentist and the periodontist in order to create natural looking restorations.
This program will focus on how periodontal surgical procedures such as subepithelial connective tissue grafts, esthetic crown lengthening, ridge augmentation and immediate implants can help create esthetic restorations. The focus of this presentation is to give attendees the information and skills they need to achieve the most favorable outcome. Upon successful completion of this course, attenders will learn to identify periodontal surgical procedures that can be utilized to enhance restorative outcome.

9 AM - 4 PM
MCEU - 6 HOURS
Title: “Your Restorative Board of Directors” Clinician: Bradley S. Portenoy, D.D.S.
Coordinator, Pankey Learning Group of New York
Synopsis: The Pankey style of dentistry is a relationship-based comprehensive-care practice. A philosophy of team is woven into all aspects of patient care. The members of the doctor’s “Board of Directors” play a vital role in the success of a patient’s treatment. This full-day program will demonstrate how a philosophy of relationship-based dentistry leads to systems every dentist can use in order to create the extraordinary practice. An extraordinary practice is within the reach of every dentist who applies himself or herself with intentional purpose and optimally involves the entire office team and interdisciplinary specialists.
Upon successful completion of this course, participants will learn:
• How their personalities can make or break a treatment and how to identify what practice styles they want to have
• How to get patients to hear them and be engaged in the examination
• How to build value in their examinations through team and technology
• What comprehensive care looks like
• How to create great patient relationships
• How team member opinions can improve the esthetics of a comprehensive restorative case
• How to bring the “right” specialists to your “Director’s” table
• Why developing expertise in occlusion and muscles really matters

SPECIAL INTEREST COURSE
Hilton Garden Inn, Staten Island, NY (9:00 AM - 1:00 PM)
#2012-13 Wednesday, May 9, 2012
All CPR courses are 5 MCEUs.
Title: “CPR & Medical Emergencies in the Dental Office”
Instructor: Michael Kaliroff
Certified Instructor, American Heart Association
Synopsis: This course provides dentists and their staffs with the knowledge and skills needed to properly respond to cardiopulmonary and other medical emergencies which can occur in dental offices. The specific advantages and disadvantages of performing CPR within the dental operatory will be discussed. This program utilizes hands-on practice sessions for all participants. Topics to be covered will include heart attacks and strokes (signs and symptoms), sudden cardiac arrest/defibrillation, airway obstruction (choking), respiratory emergencies, anaphylactic reactions, emergency drug kits, and more.
Upon successful completion of this course, participants will gain the knowledge and hands-on experience needed to administer CPR safely and effectively. Participants will receive a 20-year certification card from the American Heart Association as well as continuing education credits. Completion of this course will also satisfy the New York State Education Department’s requirement for licensed dentists.
